South Brunswick Reads 2017 initiative will run from January – June 2017. The SBSD and the SBPL have joined together to invite all students and residents to share a common reading experience and then get together to talk about it. The idea of a community-wide reading program was inspired by a similar reading project of Crossroads Middle School and the School District and the SB Public Library. For our 7th year, we have selected a common title once again—this time, a memoir. A story of hope and perseverance and the epitome of “Attitude Determines Altitude.” “The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind” is a story of William Kamkwamka who created currents of electricity and hope. For more information about William and the SB Reads Program visit the SBSD Curriculum website.
