SCHOOL CLOSURE ANNOUNCEMENT FOR FRIDAY, JANUARY 5TH

Hello South Brunswick,

Unfortunately we will have to close schools again, Friday, January 5th. As we all know, safety is always the priority and with the winds and single temps slated for tonight and tomorrow, getting anything to stay clear has been tremendously difficult, and in some cases impossible. I know the town will be working through the night to keep us all safe, but they as well as our building and grounds crews are up against a formidable foe this round.

We have serious concerns about sidewalks, temperatures, ice, and the ability for all of our students and staff to even make it safely to school.

So to be clear, The South Brunswick Schools will be closed for Friday, January 5, 2018.

Be safe, stay warm - but have a little fun with the family. Just finished a game of Risk with my girls and that has put a smile on a face that has been rather stressed with the weather.

This is Scott Feder signing off on this important weather event.
