

NOVEMBER 21, 2006

Dear Students,

This is your chance to really get to know what it was like to live at least half a century ago.

You are going to interview someone who is close to you and ask him or her all kinds of questions about what life was like for them when they were growing up. You will then compare it to your life now.

Your first part of this is to conduct an interview. Attached are the questions to ask them. It takes a while, but is worth it. You will find out some amazing things about this person. It may even lead to a few stories that had been forgotten. It will be your job to ask the interview questions and record the answers. Since some relatives may live far away, you may use e-mail, phone, or letters to get your responses. The questions will be posted on the school web site.

When you come back from vacation, we'll begin to compile the data. You will be given a timeline of when different sections are due.

Have fun. Enjoy.

Mrs. Quaglin, Mrs. Caneja, Mrs. Buonocore

---

I have seen the introduction letter and the questions for the Gift of Age project dated Nov. 21st.

Homeroom teacher

Mrs. Quaglin, Mrs. Caneja, Mrs. Buonocore

Child's name _____

Parent signature _____